

THOS. WINSMORE LOST SCHOONER

Little Doubt Now That This Was Vessel Wrecked on Diamond Shoals.

THE CAPTAIN A YOUNG MAN

His Crew Was Not Experienced,
But He Took Risk in Severe Weather.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NORFOLK, Va., February 23.—It is regarded in marine circles here as almost certain that the three-masted schooner which went to pieces on Diamond Shoals three weeks ago, with the loss of its entire crew, was the Thomas Winsmore, of Philadelphia.

There are several vessels which were known to have been in the vicinity of Hatteras at the time of the disaster.
Among these was the Winsmore. All the others have reached port.

The Winsmore was from Philadelphia for Jacksonville, Fla., with hard coal. She put into Hampton Roads on January 25th for harbor, and went out a day or two later, but returned and landed her mainmast. She was sick and was placed in a hospital.

Another man was secured here, and the Winsmore proceeded, passing out the Virginia Capes the day before the unknown wreck on Diamond Shoals. Captain Marshall, who spoke her below, said that Captain Johnson reported that his crew were not good seamen, and he feared to go to sea with them, but he finally went out.

Captain Johnson was a young man, formerly in the U. S. A. Danahower, a schooner in which he was interested and which he made to pay well. Recently he sold her and went in the Winsmore, of which Thomas Winsmore, of Philadelphia, was managing owner.

Fire in Lumber Plant.
A fire, which started last midnight at the plant of the Atlantic Coast Lumber Corporation, in South Norfolk, caused a loss of property to the extent of $10,000.

The blaze started in shavings in the boilerroom and spread rapidly.
The boilerhouse and shavings-vault were totally destroyed, and the engine-room was badly damaged, as was also some of the machinery. The planing mill and lumber-sheds were saved.

The greater part of the valuable machinery was saved. The damage is entirely covered by insurance. The plant is almost a new one.

A force of men to-day began work repairing the damage.

FIGHT BITTERLY INSANITY MOVE

tions with the defendant before their marriage.

More Sensation's To-Morrow.
When the trial is resumed Monday morning Mr. Jerome may again try to induce the defendant's attorneys to allow Doctors Deemer and Bingham to go up in the stand. If they follow Thaw's wishes, however, they will oppose this move. Mr.
Jerome is not likely to ask for a commission until more medical testimony is taken.

The breaking of Mrs. Thaw's story will have little effect upon the question of the sanity or insanity of the defendant, which is the real issue of the case.

If a commission in lunacy is not appointed, the trial may drag along for four or five weeks yet.

Regarding a statement to the effect that $300,000 is to be settled upon Mrs.
Harry K. Thaw by her husband's family for the position she has taken in the trial, the following official statement was given to-day by Mrs. William Thaw, the prisoner's mother, through her attorneys:

Mrs. William Thaw Denies.
"Mrs. William Thaw desires it understood that the statement that she or any of her family gave any money or any other inducement to Mrs. Evelyn Thaw for the position she has taken, is untrue, ungaranted and unjustified."

In giving out the statement, Chief-ford W. Hartbridge, the attorney, said:
"Mrs. William Thaw was very angry and provoked that a statement of that kind should be published, and wished to deny it. Mrs. Evelyn Thaw hasn't received a dollar, not a single dollar, from the Thaw family for her testimony."

Mr. Hartbridge, in speaking of the report that District Attorney Jerome was going to apply for an insanity commission to examine Thaw and report on his present mental condition, said:
"If that suggestion came from the district attorney's office it is peculiar to use a mild word. Thaw is certainly not any more insane now than when the trial began. It would be a peculiar thing to do now when they are beaten off course, the defense will fight any application for the appointment of a commission. Before the trial began people would not believe me when I said that if any application would be made for a commission it would not be by the defense."

Countess Has Not Deserted.
He also denied a report that the Countess of Yarmouth had deserted her husband's cause. This report apparently grew out of the fact that the countess has not been at the trial for several days.

"That is all nonsense," said Mr. Hart-bridge. "The only reason that she has not been at the trial is because there is no place for her to stay, the witness-room being crowded as it is. She has not visited him in the Tams trial days because he is in court all the time that visitors are admitted there. She has come thousands of miles to help her brother, and left everything to be with him. There is no truth in any statements to the contrary."

Mrs. Evelyn Thaw visited her husband early today and remained with him the full three hours allowed to visitors. She appeared to be in much better condition physically than at the time of her visit yesterday.

STATE BIDS EDNA GOODRICH BE PREPARED TO TESTIFY

NEW YORK, February 23.—Though Evelyn Nesbit Thaw made in her testimony no attack upon Edna Goodrich, the actress, she suggested that if it had not been for Edna Goodrich she would not have been introduced to Stanford White under the conditions which led to such disastrous results.

Edna Goodrich was questioned by Assistant District Attorney Garvan before she left New York for a tour in the South. She did not then mention introducing Evelyn Nesbit to White. She stated that she had been a friend of White and her references to him were all of a commendatory nature. She knew of nothing to throw any light on the roof-garden tragedy, and was not considered at that time to be useful as a witness for the State.

Since her name was not included among those which were whispered in court, but was publicly announced by Mrs. Thaw, the district attorney's office has been in communication with Miss Goodrich and has requested her to come here prepared to testify.

In a message to the New York American, recently published, Miss Goodrich positively denied she had ever been in White's studio.

INDIGNANT DENIAL OF "REWARD" FOR MRS. THAW

NEW YORK, February 23.—Mrs.
Harry K. Thaw and Thaw's counsel were indignant yesterday over the report that Mrs. Thaw has been promised $200,000 for the sacrifice she has made to save the life of her husband. The money, it was reported, was to be paid by Mrs.
William Thaw to her daughter-in-law at the conclusion of the trial, regardless of what the verdict of the jury might be.

"This story," said Lawyer John H.
Gleason, "is a false, cowardly and malicious statement. The night when White was shot, when Thaw reached the scene of his wife, she threw her arms around his neck and said, 'Harry, never mind. I will stand by you forever.'"

"Never, at any time or place, has there been a wife who has stood by her husband more nobly. She has no thought of reward in the performance of what she considers her duty, and she has kept her word. She will stand by Thaw forever."

TWO OTHER VICTIMS WILL TESTIFY FOR THAW

NEW YORK, February 23.—Two other young women who suffered at the hands of Stanford White as Evelyn Nesbit did are to take the stand in behalf of her husband.

One of the Thaw lawyers announced this to-day, and added that no matter how grilling may be District Attorney Jerome's cross-examination of the prisoner's wife, she will be borne out in every contention.

These girls—for they are no older than was Evelyn Nesbit when she met her fate—were loath to offer their services and suffer the stigma which is bound to follow, and they only came to the stand when they were informed that the prosecution was doing everything in its power to discredit Thaw's wife.

Tobacco Men Meet.

AMELIA, Va., February 23.—The State Executive Committee of Dark Tobacco Growers' Association met in Parade, Va., yesterday, and considered matters of importance to the association, heard reports from all branches and arranged work for the coming season. The secretary was authorized to tender to Senator John W.
Daniel the thanks of the association for his efforts in behalf of the tobacco bill, which allows farmers to twist and sell their tobacco free of tax.

Tom Joel B. Port of Tennessee, who was announced to speak before the committee on Friday, arrived in Farmville about 10 o'clock, but found a telegram calling him back on account of the death of a relative, and took the 12:20 train for the West, much to the disappointment of many who gathered to hear him speak both Friday and Saturday.

Mr. Preston Belvin, Jr., who has been in the city for some time, and who has past two months at his father's residence, No. 1501 West Avenue, is convalescent.

Do You Contemplate Matrimony?

Now listen! Where we FULLY expected to move into our magnificent new store at Adams and Broad Streets, THIS WEEK, we were disappointed because of the slowness in finishing the building. Our experience has proven that married people are the most successful, in fact, were it not for married people we wouldn't do any business; therefore, we prize the sale of a bridal suit most highly. You know we're forced to move—forced to sell, and our prices have been marked down regardless of cost. Now, to come to the point—we will be glad to sell you at our greatly reduced prices, under the following conditions: You to pay from a quarter to a half cash and the balance in easy weekly or monthly instalments, and, if necessary, we can leave a limited number of purchases in our present quarters for some little time because the tenant who succeeds us at our present stand will use only the first three floors for his business.

This offer is a cinch for those who are about to start housekeeping. Go to other stores and get prices before you come here to purchase—get posted—that's the best way, because then you and we will both be best satisfied.

Cottage Carpets, room, hall and stairs patterns, 10c per yard; worth 40c.
Kitchen Tables, top 24x36; were $1.25, now 85c.
Full Standard No. 6 Range, with nickel trimmings, $8.48; was $15.50.
Mahogany Finished Wardrobes, 32 inches wide and 82 inches high; were $15.00, now $9.98.

Extra reductions on three and five-piece Parlor Sets.
A lot of $20.00 to $50.00 odd Bed Springs, 30c, while they last.
As we said before, in moving Dinner and Toilet Sets and Lamps, if we should break a large plate, pitcher or lamp, we should not only lose the profit, but also a large part of the cost, so out they all go at cost, and remember, 100 assorted Oak and Mahogany Parlor Tables, tops slightly scratched, will be sold at less than cost.

LADY PAGET HEAD OF ART SOCIETY

Association Will Make an Exhibition at the Jamestown Exposition.

LONDON, February 23.—As a result of the efforts of Charles W. Kohlman and Thomas W. Crider, commissioners of the Jamestown Exposition, several American women under the presidency of Lady Paget, who was Miss Stevens, of New York, are organizing an art, historical and antiquarian society, the object of which is to collect relics and other material relating to Jamestown, with a view to their exhibition at the forthcoming exposition.

AMBASSADOR AFTER THE WILY SULTAN

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 23.—The American ambassador, Mr. Leishman, had an audience of an hour with the sultan yesterday; during which the ambassador fully explained the views of the state department on pending questions, emphasizing the necessity for a prompt settlement. The sultan evinced much interest in Mr. Leishman's recital of the obstructive tactics of some of those with whom he had been negotiating, and promised to give the grand vizier to take up immediately the questions referred to with the view of arriving at a prompt solution of the difficulties.

The sultan looked extremely well and was in good spirits.

VEIN OF GOLD IN STREET.

Quartz With Good Percentage of Precious Metal Unearthed.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., February 23.— Gold was yesterday discovered on Patton Avenue, one of the principal streets of this city.

Workmen excavating for the foundation of a large building to be erected at the corner of Patton and Ashland Avenues have struck what appears to be a profitable vein of gold-bearing quartz. The vein has been not as yet been uncovered sufficiently to form a proper estimate of its extent, but experts who have examined the quartz are of opinion that it is a valuable find, and samples are now being analyzed.

It has been a matter of general belief here for years that a vein of gold quartz extended through a portion of Asheville, running from the southeast to the north. Specimens of the quartz analyzed by local experts show a good percentage of gold.

WHO KILLED GEORGE?

Corthin and Gregory to Be Put Through Rigid Examination.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) TAYLORVILLE, Va., February 23.—The preliminary hearing of James Corthin and Corwin Gregory was begun here this afternoon. The courthouse was crowded to the doors by people from all parts of the county, notwithstanding the very inclement weather. The two men, who are believed to know something of the mysterious death of Clark T. E. George, were defended by Mc-Clougherty and Coleman, of Bluefield.
The Commonwealth has about a dozen witnesses, only a few of whom were put on the stand this afternoon. The most important witnesses were not examined. E. H. Smetters, of West Virginia, who assisted in making the arrests of the two men on the 31st of January, testified to some conflicting statements said to have been made by the men as to their whereabouts on the day of the casualty and the day after.
The court adjourned in the midst of Mr.
Witten's examination until Monday morning.

Stephen Davis, pastor of the Christian Church, was thought to have been dying at his home here this afternoon of pneumonia, but is reported better tonight.

NEGROES TO ASK WHITE MEN TO LECTURE BEFORE THEM

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 23.—
The negro missionaries of the American Baptist Publication Society, representing all of the Southern States, who are holding their annual conference in this city, have decided to extend invitations to prominent white people of the South to lecture to them in connection with their institute work. There is a very large attendance of missionaries, and the sessions will continue for ten days.

PRESIDENT'S STRENUOUS DAY AT THE CLUBS OF HARVARD

Makes Great Speech, Receives a Medal, is God-Father for a Rough-Rider Baby, Pays Half-Dozen Visits, and Takes Part in Son's Initiation in "Little Pig" Club.

BOSTON, MASS., February 23.—The visit to Harvard University to-day of Theodore Roosevelt, who came not as President of the United States, but as a "knight," returning to meet his fellow Harvard men, including his own son, Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., developed into one of the busiest days of his career.
Harvard hospitality was showered upon the President during his two distinct visits to the university city during the day, and in Boston his personal friends claimed all his spare time, and did all things to make his trip to Massachusetts most enjoyable.

The principal event of the day, however, was President Roosevelt's address to the Harvard students. Two thousand Harvard men, mostly undergraduates gathered in the great livingroom of the union, and they gave the President a magnificent reception.

The presidential party arrived from Washington shortly after 8 A. M. It included, besides the President, Mrs.
Roosevelt, Congressman Nicholas Longworth and Mrs. Longworth, and Miss Ethel Roosevelt.

Mrs. Roosevelt, Mrs. Longworth and Miss Ethel Roosevelt proceeded at once to the home of friends in Chestnut Hill.
The President, who had been greeted by many friends, went immediately to the home of his friend, Dr. W. B. Bigelow.
Half an hour after breakfast Mr. Roosevelt had become god-father of the child of his Rough Rider and Harvard friend, Guy Murchie. The christening took place at the Murchie home.

After an automobile drive to Chestnut Hill, where Mr. Roosevelt saw his wife and daughters before their departure for Groton to see the President's son, Kermit, the motor car took him across the Charles to Cambridge.

When Mr. Roosevelt was at college he was an editor of the Harvard Advocate, and upon his arrival at the union to-day he was greeted to the Advocate rooms.

Diphtheria Deadly There.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WINCHESTER, Va., February 23.— Diphtheria claimed another victim in this city.

HUNTING PIRATES.
The Accomac and Commodore Maury Making Extended Cruises.

NORFOLK, Va., February 23.—The gunboat Accomac of the Virginia oyster navy, returned here to-day after a successful cruise in the James and York Rivers in search of violators of pirates and other violators of the oyster laws.
Several arrests were made on the York River.

Chairman MacDonald Lee and other members of the State Board of Fisheries are still aboard the Commodore Maury, flagship of the oyster navy, in the Rappahannock, looking after violators on those waters.

Not the Defaulter.
OPELIKA, February 23.—The man arrested here last night, and believed to be William F. Walker, the missing New Britain, Conn., banker, is another man. Giving the name of W. Harper, he was identified to-day by Charles L. Macgregor, a farmer living about ten miles from this city, as Harper.
He has been released from custody.
